

P.E.G. Precision is one of the South West of the UK's most prominent Precision Engineering companies , renowned for the excellence and detail to quality. We can offer a complete service including advice, development and prototyping. We have over 22 years experience as a company in the machining of precision engineered components, and our continual investment in the latest machinery and computer technology ensures we maintain our competitive edge. .

At P.E.G. we can offer you much more than a sub contract manufacturing facility. We can offer a complete service - design, advice, prototyping through to volume production and then delivery of fully traceable finished components . We work closely with our clients to develop their ideas and products from inception to production.

□ P.E.G. Precision works to the highest industry standards required by our BS EN ISO 9001/2008 accreditation.

Our quality team monitor all aspects of component engineering manufacture to ensure we maintain the high standards our customers expect.